Bill Heads per ream.....	$5 00
Two Reams.....	9 00
Letter Heads per ream.....	4 50
Packet Note Heads per ream.....	3 00
Commercial Note Heads per ream.....	2 75
Envelopes per thousand.....	3 00
Visiting Cards fifty.....	25c

And other printing at proportionately low prices. Rosser & McCarthy.

BERLIN CRIME.

The Trial of a "Family Murderer."

Berlin Cor. London Times.

For the last two days the First District Criminal Court and a jury have been engaged in the trial of a case which would certainly have afforded De Quincy some interesting material for his essay on "Murder as one of the Fine Arts." Berlin has not had to listen to such a sensational and painful story of crime for a long time, certainly the black calendar of the city of intelligence is by no means pleasant reading. The chief actor in the present tragedy was a man named Conrad, aged thirty-four who, began life as a philosophic tailor, somewhat after the style of Kingsley's Alton Locke, and after roaming through the gamut of various occupations, including military services ended by strangling in one night his wife and four children. The trial of the murderer, which excited the deepest interest, as it was feared that the evidence against him might possibly break down, has disclosed a terrible degree of social depravity well calculated to make the humanitarians of the nineteenth century pause and think. Conrad, the family murderer," as the newspapers term him, is a man, for his station in life, of great force of character, intelligent, inquiring, well read, inventive, ready and of remarkable self-possession.

He had been a diligent reader of the naturalist Charles Darwin, and his desultory course of study had ended in making him, like many others of his class in Germany a believer in nothing whatever. Not only had he renounced all his religious faith himself, but he had compelled his wife to leave the church, and brought up his children in heathen darkness. The struggle for existence grew ever harder with him. He transferred his affections from his own wife to another, an unmarried woman. He denied the paternity of two of his children, and his household became a perfect hell. He wanted to be free to marry the object of his second love, and with one blow he cut the fivefold knot that bound him to his vows.

In the night between the 11th and 12th of August last he strangled his wife and four children while they slept. In the morning the corpses of the mother and her youngest child were found hanging at the back door, while the bodies of the other three were discovered similarly suspended in a wardrobe. On the mother's bed lay a volume of Schiller open at the poem of the "Kindermorderin" (child murdereress) which the father placed there so as to suggest to the officers of justice that his wife had committed both infanticide and suicide.

This was the critical point in the whole case—whether the father or the mother committed the terrible crime, and but for the judicial habit here of cross-questioning prisoners there is no saying how for the diabolical craft and coolness with which Conrad planned and executed the deed, with his calm and self-collected demeanor in court might not have aided him. A letter of triumph, however, which he wrote to his mistress before the breath could have been long out of his wife's body formed a strong link in an otherwise somewhat fragile chain of circumstantial evidence, so he was found guilty and condemned to death. His own theory was that, having had a quarrel with his wife on the night in question, he rushed out of her insupportable presence into another room, where he fell asleep, and that then the mother did the fearful havoc. In the morning he sent for a locksmith to pick the lock which he himself had fastened, and he made a most dramatic pretense of weeping and fainting when confronted with the results of his nocturnal handiwork. Fiction, however, yielded to reality when sentence of death was pronounced upon him, and when, altogether collapsing, he had to be brought round and whine. To detail the social depravity revealed by this trial would only shock your readers.

How a Patagonian Got Away With Hermann.

Pall Mall Gazette.

The famous conjurer Hermann has arrived in Paris from Vienna, after a sojourn of six months in South America. During a performance at the house of the Governor of Montevideo, Hermann determined to mystify three half-savage Patagonians who were present, and whom no one dared to approach. He stupefied the first by taking an orange from his nose, he astonished the second by producing a series of piastres from his hair, but the third seemed overpowered with terror as he extracted from his nose a living rat. Uttering a cry of fright, the Patagonians withdrew and the company congratulated Hermann upon his success.

While receiving their congratulations he suddenly discovered that his watch was gone, and that his chain had gone with it. His purse, too, had disappeared, and the thief had also appropriated his eyeglass and his pocket handkerchief. Half an hour afterward the chief of the Patagonians returned, bringing the missing articles. The savage from whose nose Hermann had extracted the rat had emptied the conjurer's pockets at the moment when he was pretending to be overcome with terror at the apparition of the rat from the tip of his nose.

Apples for Alaska.

Seattle Chronicle.

Some parties in Harrisburg, Alaska, ordered a lot of apples in boxes by the Elder from San Francisco. The steamer did not reach Townsend in time to reship on the Alaska boat, so the fruit was sold in Seattle and New Tacoma. Stone & Co. bought a large number of boxes. Upon opening one Mr. Stone found snugly hidden away in the center of the box a bottle of whisky. Several of the boxes have been "sampled," and a general average of one in three has been found to contain a bottle of the genuine brand. Those in Tacoma give equally spirited results, so that there must have been in the entire shipment something like four dozen bottles of whisky. Those poor miners at Harrisburg will be sorely tried when the California arriyes there and it is found there are no apples aboard; for if there is anything the average miner does like it is apples of that variety.

An English Vicar Seales a Church Spire.

London Times.

Yesterday afternoon, October 6th an unusual ceremony took place at St. Paul's church, Haggerston. A new spire has been erected, thus completing the structure, the stone of which was laid in 1859. The vicar, the Rev. S. J. Stone, mounted the scaffolding to a height of 103, feet, and, attired in his clerical and academic garb, "placed in position" the final cross, after which prayers were said by the vicar.

The congregation in the street below, including 700 school children, then sang "The Church's One Foundation," and the vicar, having from his exalted position pronounced the benediction, descended, and received the hearty congratulations of the church wardens and other friends on the completion of the work.

Down in Texas a man will marry a woman on a day's acquaintance, which is one reason why divorce lawyers always do well in that state.

New Haven mothers frighten their unruly boys into obedience by threatening to make them Republicans when they grow up if they don't behave.

Nothing is more harrowing to two confidence men than to take each other for fresh ones, and work each other for hours before ascertaining their mistake.

Said the rich and quiet loving citizen: "If a man bores me and I don't like him, and want him to keep away from me, I don't snub him. I just lend him $5."

DAILY EVENING BULLETIN.

FRIDAY EVENING, OCT. 27, 1882.

TERMS:—The EVENING BULLETIN is published daily, and served free of postage at 6 cents per week; 25 cents per month; 75 cents per three months; $1.50 per six months, and $3 per year, payable in advance.

THE EVENING BULLETIN HAS A LARGER CIRCULATION IN THIS CITY, CHESTER AND ABERDEEN, OHIO, THAN ANY OTHER PAPER PUBLISHED IN MAYSVILLE.

THERE are thirty-eight cases of small-pox under treatment at Newport.

ANOTHER and more serious rebellion than the last, is said to have broken out in Egypt, and the Kedive will have his hands full to suppress it.

It remains to be seen how many worshippers of the brazen-pot-lid are to be found in this district among the Garfield Republicans. Are any considerable number of them ready to be branded with the legend "306."

It will cost three cents for one of the new postal money orders for a sum less than $5 and the service is so extended as to raise the limit of orders from $50 to $100. Persons will not be required to fill out a blank but will receive an order payable to the bearer at any money office.

ARE the friends of the late President Garfield, in this district, going to swallow Capt. Culbertson, the Stalwart, with his brass pot-lid and all as the "independent" New Republican has done? Has the "party lash" been applied vigorously enough to make them accept this representative of the element that achieved power through the act of Guiteau, the assassin?

THERE is a revolt in this section against bossism.—New Republican.

It is not becoming to the intellectual young writer for the "Independent" New Republican to talk about bossism. A man who has bent the pregnant hinges of the knee before the brass pot-lid of Capt. Culbertson, at the crack of the Stalwart whip, ought not refer to such a thing. It would be far better for his consistency if he would confine himself to the building up of that "New Republican party" so loudly heralded in the declaration of principles made when he ascended the tripod several months ago.

Is This True?

Is it true that Capt. W. W. Culbertson, the Republican candidate for congress, while at Carlisle recently, asked a Republican acquaintance if one thousand dollars would be a sufficient amount of money to be expended there in the interest of his race? Is it true that Capt. Culbertson desires to buy the people of Nicholas county as though they were so many cattle? If such is his desire, we feel perfectly safe in telling him that the Republican National Committee cannot place at his disposal a sum of money great enough to enable him to accomplish any such corrupt purpose.

THE Court of Appeals has just rendered a decision that will be of interest to judges and juries concerning a verdict upon a third conviction for grand larceny. Some time ago, it will be remembered, the court decided that a third conviction for the same offense, according to the statutes, fixed the punishment at a life-term in the penitentiary. In a number of instances under this decision prisoners have been sentenced for life upon hearsay evidence or evidence obtained from the prisoners themselves, that they had been previously convicted for the same crime. The court now, on the point being raised, holds that the record evidence of the previous convictions must be had before a life-verdict can be rendered.

THE attention of the young editor of the New Republican is called to the following sensible article taken from the Ashland, (Ky.) Express, and every word of which meets with the approval of the BULLETIN: "Yes, with all your boasting of the blessings your protective tariff brings to the poor man, you cannot wipe out from the memories of hundreds and thousands of honest laborers who, within the past eight years in order to obtain work to keep themselves, their wives and children from starving had to tramp it all over the country weary and hungry; absolutely begging victuals or a night's lodging, which was often refused them upon the pretext that they were nothing but worthless tramps; and this too while your present so-called protective tariff was in full operation. These poor men have not forgotten the many heart burnings they suffered and the bitter tears they shed, while far from home, willing to work at anything and almost at any price to keep soul and body together, yet unable to get it, while at that time in bitter mockery of their destitution and distress, Republican newspapers and party leaders never ceased to pour into their ears the great blessing they were enjoying under this so-called Republican protective tariff which proved to be to so many thousand of honest workmen nothing but a cheat, a delusion and a snare. Your protective tariff affords no protection to the poor man. The Lord of the earth has of late years been good to our people in giving us abundant crops and a foreign market for our breadstuffs; and there is where the secret of our prosperity lies."

THE Kentucky Democrat says: We understand that the Stalwarts and Government officials, at Cincinnati, contributed a handsome sum towards the buying of Capt. Culbertson's election to congress. We wonder if Capt. Culbertson impressed upon his Cincinnati friends the idea that the Democrats of this and adjoining counties could be bought like hogs and sheep in the market.

NEAL AND CRAFT.

The Governor Will Send a Battalion of Infantry and a Section of Artillery to Protect Them During Their Trial.

Special to the Courier-Journal.

FRANKFORT, Oct. 25.—War is lowering upon the reported organized mob of Eastern Kentucky. Reports were received tonight that loud threats were made against the prisoners, Neal and Craft, who, the mob says, shall be hung whether the soldiers become their escort or not. Simultaneously with this report came Judge Brown's letter requesting Gov. Blackburn to send the State Guards. The Judge says he is satisfied that harm will befall the prisoners unless the Governor complies with his request. Thereupon orders were made out for the following Companies, with instructions to rendezvous at Lexington next Sunday and proceed to Catlettsburg with Neal and Craft next Monday: The McCreary Guards, Capt. J. Lampton Price; Nuckols Guards, Capt. Jos. Rodman, of this city; Blackburn Guards, of Midway; Lexington Guards, of Lexington; Emmet Rifles, of Maysville, a section of the Light Artillery, from Louisville, and possibly a company of the Louisville Legion. It is the intention to muster between 200 and 250 men together with the artillerists, all of whom will be under the command of Maj. Allen, of Lexington. Gov. Blackburn telegraphed to Maj. Castleman, of Louisville, to-night to get his artillerists in readiness, and that he would be down on the early train to-morrow morning to hold a conference on the threatened prospect. A telegram was also sent to Judge Brown, of Catlettsburg, telling him of the intention to send the prisoners up next Monday, instead of next Friday—the day set for the trial—the reason being that a night attack on the train is apprehended, to avoid which a special train will be engaged for Monday morning, and a sharp look-out kept all the way up. The Governor says the prisoners must and shall have a fair trial, if it requires the whole force of the State Guard.

Kendall's Spavin Cure.

The Most Successful Remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. READ PROOF BELOW.

From Rev. P. N. GRANGER.

Prestiding Elder of the St. Albans District. ST. ALBANS, VT., Jan., 20, 1880. DR. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a ring-bone was forming, I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the bunch be found. Respectfully yours, P. N. GRANGER.

Perseverance Will Tell.

STROUGHTON, MASS., March 16, 1880. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In justice to you and myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have removed two bone spavins with Kendall's Spavin Cure, one very large one, don't know how long the spavin had been there. I have owned the horse eight months. It took me four months to take the large one off and two for the small one. I have used ten bottles. The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and no bunch to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is a new thing here, but if it does for all what it has done for me its will be very great. Respectfully yours, CHAS. E. PARKER.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE is sure in its effects, mild in its action as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach a every deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargement, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callous, sprains, swellings, any lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects.

Send address for illustrated Circular which we think gives positive proof of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such unqualified success to our knowledge, for beast as well as man.

Price $1. per bottle, or six bottles for $5. ALL DRUGGISTS have it or can get it for you or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors. DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO. Enosburgh Falls, Vermont. 127u.

THE plea of insanity, it is understood, is to be urged in the defense of Ivan Bowman who killed Marshal Lane at Augusta, several months ago. The trial begins at Brooksville, Bracken county, next Monday. The defense is represented by Col. Weeden O'Neal, of Covington and Col. R. K. Smith and Judge Jno. H. Boude, of the Bracken bar.

THE Ashland Independent in noticing the approaching trial of Neal and Craft, says: It is rumored that the relatives and friends of the prisoners have formed a plan to arm themselves and take them from the train under the pretense that they are going to hang them, and then turn them loose and let them escape. But notwithstanding all these reports, everything appears to be quiet and unexcited here.

PADDY PARKS was arrested in Maysville, on Thursday, by Marshal Fitzgerald, on a warrant from Montgomery county charging Parks with obtaining goods under false pretenses. It is said he got from one of the merchants at Mt. Sterling a suit of clothes by representing himself to be the son of Thomas Clark, formerly of this county but who now lives in Montgomery. Marshal Pat Punch, of Mt. Sterling, conveyed Parks to Montgomery county to-day.

DASTARDLY DEED.

Freight Train on the Kentucky Central Wrecked by the Act of a Devil in Human Form.

Locomotive and Three Cars Ditched—Loss $10,000. Arrest of the Supposed Perpetrator of the Deed.

Freight train No. 17, of the Kentucky Central, on its way to this city was wrecked yesterday afternoon about half-past two o'clock, near Summit Station, by some evil disposed person placing a piece of rail about six inches in length upon the track. The piece of iron was placed lengthwise on the rail and propped up at one end with a stone. The engine and tender were thrown from the track and badly wrecked. It was one of the largest and best engines on the road, and was damaged the amount of about $8,000. There were seventeen cars attached and of these three were badly crushed. The loss in all will be in the neighborhood of $10,000. Fortunately there was no loss of life, nor any one seriously hurt.

A negro boy about twelve years of age named George Gallagher was arrested last night by Mr. Seaman the policeman at the depot as the supposed perpetrator of this dastardly deed. He was seen in the vicinity of where the accident happened a short time before it occurred, and as no other person was observed in the neighborhood, suspicion was thus directed to him and he was accordingly arrested.

A wrecking train was promptly dispatched to the spot to begin the work of removal which will be finished to-day. Capt. Geo. Collier is in charge. Passengers are at present transferred around the wreck by means of wagons. All trains will be running as usual to-morrow.

The Speaking Last Night.

The Hon. John G. Carlisle arrived here yesterday and at night entertained a large audience of ladies and gentlemen at the court house with a most impressive and statesmanlike discussion of the pending political topics. He goes from here to-day to Carlisle, where he will speak to-morrow, returning home the day following.

Mr. Carlisle's speech was a clear and lucid presentation of Democratic policy and a severe and terrible arraignment of the Republican party for its corruptions and general bad management of public affairs. We wish every voter in this district could have listened to the clear-headed sincere and candid speaker, for after such a speech no honest man, it seems to us, can consistently refuse to cast his vote for our estimable candidate for congress, Col J. J. S. Hurt, in preference to the Republican candidate, Capt. W. W. Culbertson, who is a fit representative of the rotten Republican party, so well described and exposed by Mr. Carlisle. The speech was one of practical good sense and those who were fortunate enough to hear it were most pleasantly and instructively entertained.

At the conclusion of Mr. Carlisle's remarks the Hon. E. C. Phister, in response to the call of the audience, made a ringing speech in behalf of Col. Hurt. It was sound, logical and furnished some solid material for thought to those who are inclined to oppose the election of the Democratic candidate.

Religious.

Religious services will be held at the Third street Presbyterian Church next Sunday morning and evening at the usual hours, by Rev. S. J. Baird, of Covington, Ky. Everybody is cordially invited to hear this distinguished minister.

Under Orders.

The Emmet Rifles under the command of Capt. Eli Fitzgerald will go on Monday morning to Lexington on their way to Catlettsburg, as guards to Neal and Craft the Ashland murderers, in obedience to the following orders received by telegraph last night:

FRANKFORT, KY., Oct. 26, 1882.
To Captain E. W. Fitzgerald, Commanding Emmet Rifles, Maysville, Ky.: Emmet Rifles will report to Major at Lexington on Monday at 9:30 a. m.
J. W. BLACKBURN,
Ass't. Adjutant General.

Murder in Bracken County.

On Sunday the 22d inst., Berlin, Bracken County, was the scene of a tragedy that ended fatally. A young man named Sharp was going home from church with the sister of a man named McCarthy. The latter had forbidden Sharp to visit his sister, and on the day named he met Sharp and struck him on the head, it is supposed with brass knuckles, inflicting severe injuries. Sharp turned upon him with a knife and cut him so severely that he died three days later. The opinion seems to prevail that Sharp will be acquitted when his examining trial is held.

Sales of Land.

The following changes in the ownership of land have been recorded at the office of the Clerk of the County Court, since our last report:

Dr. M. Smith's heirs by commissioner to Francis B. Smith and others, lots number 74, 75, 76, 77, 79, 80, 81, 82, and lots number 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99 and 100, on the plat of Dover, consideration, $1,900.

Julia B. Green and husband to Theodore W. Bledsoe, quit claim to one hundred and twenty-eight acres, two roads and thirteen poles of land, near Minerva, Ky., consideration, $40 per acre.

Joseph Bradford and others to W. L. Moran, twenty-four acres, three roads and seven poles of land, on Lawrence Creek, consideration, $600.

S. F. Pollock to Alice Dora, part of lot No. 42 in Geemantown, Ky., consideration, $750.

Margaret Elston and husband to J. D. Thompson and wife, lots No. 19, 20, 53, 51, 22 and a fractional 6, in Woodville, consideration, $1,586, &c.
G. A. McCarthy and wife to William Case, eighty acres of land, on the North Fork, consideration, $1,600.

Allen Pumpelly and wife to A. A. Pumpelly, forty-five acres of land on the North Fork, consideration, $800.

Alfred Hicks and others to Arthur Pumpelly eleven acres and thirty-one poles of land, on the North Fork, consideration, $198.

Circuit Court Proceedings.

In the circuit court Thursday, the 26th inst., Maria A. Peyton was tried on a writ of lunacy. The jury decided that she was an idiot. The court ordered her to be taken to the asylum at Lexington.

The jury in the case of Chase Brooks, colored, charged with an attempt to commit a rape on an infant under twelve years of age, returned the following verdict: "We, the jury, find the defendant not guilty, believing him to be of unsound mind and not capable of comprehending the nature of the offense charged against him."

Thomas Wilson, alias "the kid," Samuel Foster, alias Samuel Foulster, and Charles Williams, alias Charles Gorman, alias Charles Bladders, the parties who were indicted for robbing Ben Perham during the fair, Thursday, the 26th inst. They were defended by Messrs. E. L. Worthington and Geo. R. Gill. The arguments in the case were furnished this morning, and the case given to the jury. The verdict was not guilty.

ABERDEEN ITEMS.

Everybody seems to be on the move. Mr. Mathews in the interest of the Ohio Valley railroad is again in our midst.

Southern Ohio Christian Conference convened at Bethlehem church last week.

The school, with Prof. Stableton at the helm, is progressing finely.

Miss Sue Wilson, of Manchester, O., was the guest of Mrs. George Sutton, Sunday.

COUNTY POINTS.

MAY-TRICK.

Miss Eva Hord, of Missouri, is visiting Mrs. E. P. Berry.

Miss Sallie Shanklin has left on an extended visit to Central Kentucky.

Mr. Culbertson, the republican candidate for congress, made a short speech to his colored friends here Tuesday.

Mr. J. F. Brodrick, the old reliable insurance agent of Maysville, is here this week circulating among the people. ROMEO.

[From Another Correspondent.]

Mr. Culbertson, candidate for congress on the Radical ticket, made his "debut" in this place last Tuesday. General James Griffith, colored, led the van to the colored Baptist church where Mr. C., for about three quarters of an hour, held spell-bound a few of the dusky tribe, and labored long and faithfully to convince them that though their heads were kinky they were as white as he was.

ROUGH AND READY.

It must be the most maddening thing of the whole election to Deacon Richard Smith, to have Murat Halstead tuck off all the blame for Republican defeat upon him.

How to Raise Strawberries.

One very important principle is often overlooked by the cultivator. It is that the production of the seed or fruit is a very exhausting process. When a man buys a tree from the nursery and it bears a half dozen samples of fruit the first year, it stops its growth just about one year. Hence, until a tree gets a good growth it should not be allowed to bear. Trees that are growing rapidly do not bear, and if a tree is bearing at all, it is to the detriment of the growth.

A strawberry plant usually bears a crop of fruit and also produces new vines. Now, if the blossoms of those plants from which we want to raise new plants are cut off in season, the whole strength goes into the new plants, and one thousand runners grown from plants that are not allowed to fruit are worth more than five thousand grown from plants that bore fruit at the same time. Old plants are worth nothing—new plants from an old bed are worth nothing. The only plants worth using are young plants grown from such as are not allowed to fruit. The true way to raise strawberries is to get young plants of this description and not allow them to fruit the first year. They will throw out plenty of strong, vigorous runners, and the next season before bearing take a part of these to make a new bed. A new bed should be made every year. When we plant in the spring we should get no fruit the same year. The next year we get the largest crop we ever get. The vines can stand and bear a partial crop the next season, or be plowed under as soon as the crop is gathered.

I like best to raise one full crop and only one. It is less labor to make a new bed than to clean up an old one. It is very little labor to plant an acre of strawberries if properly done, and no other crop pays so well. The only difficulty is to get the right kind of plants, but every man can raise the plants himself in this way. Strawberries will do well on any land that will raise good corn.—Cor. Prairie Farmer.

Young Love's Dream.

They are young married people and have just gone to housekeeping, and the neighbors who assemble at their front windows to witness the harrowing sight of their parting for the day declare that the following is a verbatim account of their conversation:

"Good-bye, Charlie; now be careful the street cars don't run off the track with you and—kiss me, Charlie—there was something I wanted to tell you—let me see. Was it hair-pins? No, I got them—w-h-a-t could it have been?"

"I'm due at the office, pet," says Charlie, bracing up and looking very handsome and manly; "was it something to eat?"

"Why, of course it was; there isn't a bit of mashed potato in the house, nor a mouthful of bread and butter. We want half a yard of beefsteak—see; and have it cut bias so it will be tender—and a loaf of sweet-bread, Charlie, and a strawberry short-cake, dear, and—anything else you think of, dear."

"But, my little wife," says Charlie, looking very wise, "these things must all be made before we can eat them."

"Must they? oh, dear, and I never learned to do fancy work! I never crocheted a biseuit fit to eat, and I couldn't paint a tomato to save my life. Oh, Charlie, go to the ready-made stores, do, there's a darling!"

He did; and they had a picturesque meal of lobster and strawberries with baker's rusk and lemonade, but Charlie has written to his mother to come at once and make them a long visit, they are so delightfully situated they can make it pleasant for her now, he says.—Detroit Post and Tribune.

—A few radish seeds should be planted every week from the time the frost is out of the ground till the commencement of the fall. Spanish radishes for winter use can be planted as late as the first of September. Radishes are among the most valuable of our garden vegetables, but to be truly excellent they must be quickly grown and be eaten while they are tender.—Prairie Farmer.
